

4th Annual Conscious

Business Symposium

Monique Guild
Director and Interviewer of The Business Symposium

Ever since Monique was a child she has had an uncanny ability to “see” through difficult personal situations, and share those insights with others for their personal development. Her ability to use her intuitive gift and to overcome obstacles in her personal life helped her in seeking out people who could guide her in life and achieve success. The Business Symposium brings together such people. As a Business Intuitive she has been instrumental in helping people define and attain their business goals. In her no-nonsense style, she evaluates your business, pinpoints blocks and identifies actions that can change the future of your business, thereby helping it to flourish. Over the years, she has worked with Showtime Networks, MacLaine Enterprises, Great Expectations (placing clients on shows such as Oprah) and others. She has been featured in The Los Angeles Times, NBC, and numerous radio shows nationally. She is currently writing a book and developing a television show based on her work.

Jay Levin
Jay Levin is one of the pioneers and leaders in the independent media industry. He is the Founder, CEO and Editor-in-Chief of the Los Angeles Weekly. Under his editorial, marketing, and sales leadership the newspaper became the largest circulation and most advertising-rich weekly in the country and won numerous journalism awards. While he was heading the LA Weekly, the paper founded the magazine LA Style.

Mark Schulman
Mark Schulman is a world-class drummer for artists such as Pink, Velvet Revolver, Billy Idol, and others. Mark presents a cutting edge motivational presentation combining storytelling, interactive drumming and a bit of Rock n Roll. Schulman, who also is a cancer survivor, specializes in teambuilding, communication skills, and overcoming adversity.

Matthew Ferry

Matthew Ferry has been committed to helping people achieve maximum performance in all areas of their lives since 1989. His holistic approach to success has been developed through his determination to break away from the ‘family business’. Over the past two decades, through his hands on coaching process Mathew has individually coached over 8,000 people and trained over 58,000 people to hear their own voice and speak their truth. In 2005, Matthew founded Matthew Ferry International dedicated to teach the principles of prosperity, happiness and peace.

Joe Dispenza, D.C.

Joe’s life was changed forever when a car sent him toppling off his bike, causing multiple fractures to his vertebrae. He was told he might never walk again. As a trained chiropractor and student of neurophysiology, Joe knew that recovery lay in the power of his own mind. After receiving his Doctor of Chiropractic degree, he continued his education in neurology, neurophysiology, and brain function. He is one of the researchers and teachers featured in the award-winning movie “What the Bleep Do We Know!?”

Major Obstacles / Major Success

How Superstars Have Overcome Personal Roadblocks To Achieve Great Success!

Friday, February 8th, 2008, 11 am - 7 pm

LAX Hilton

$55 Advance/$65 Door

Have you ever asked yourself, “How did so-and-so become successful”? What was it like for them? How did their thoughts on becoming successful inform their actions? How do successful people overcome challenges in their personal life and keep persevering in their career in spite of apparently insurmountable obstacles?

How does a person continue to go for their dream - go for their vision - when there seem to be enormous roadblocks in the way? What gives an individual the strength, faith and fortitude to keep going no matter what? Monique Guild, Business Intuitive, interviews six amazing people — including an Emmy nominated and award winning actress, a television producer, a world-renowned drummer, a life coach, a media mogul, and a brain specialist — who will speak about how they have overcome great obstacles in order to achieve great success. They will inspire you through their stories of personal triumph against all odds. People who have achieved success in their business often make it look easy, but something must be present in their mindset to help them to overcome illness, poverty, and the many difficulties and challenges in life. In this interview format, Monique and her guest will talk about what has enabled them to do this!

Patsy Pease

Patsy Pease is an Emmy nominated actress and has won the Soap Opera Digest award for Best Actress for three consecutive years. She has overcome severe spinal surgeries and has gone from being told that she would never get out of a wheelchair to becoming a super athlete. Patsy was born into a family wracked by abuse, mental illness, drug abuse, and suicide. She knew she had only one way out of her past —her acting. She waited tables and checked hats and coats at the Copa Cabana until she landed her first role in a film, “He Knows You’re Alone” with Tom Hanks. Later she got the role of Cissie Mitchell in “Search For Tomorrow”. She finally landed her role of Kimberly Brady in Days of Our Lives.

Nelson Davis

Nelson Davis began Nelson Davis Television Productions in 1989 with his first weekly series “MAKING IT! Minority Success Stories”, a show featuring the inspiring success stories of small businesses. The program has profiled over 1000 entrepreneurs and has received over thirty awards and commendations from all levels of government and business organizations, including four Emmy Awards as Best Public Affairs series. At NBC, he moved from Broadcast Standards on the Tonight Show with Johnny Carson to Director of Daytime Programming for the network. Nelson believes that the entrepreneurial spirit is the authentic basis for the American way of life and his own life attests to this spirit — he grew up certifiably poor in a crowded housing project.
